Fresh Beef Travels on a Rapid Schedule

Fresh beef for domestic markets goes from stockyards to retail stores within a period of about two weeks. Although chilled, this meat is not frozen; hence it cannot be stored for a rise in price.

A steer is dressed usually within twenty-four hours after purchase by the packer. The beef is held in a cooler at the packing house, at a temperature a little above freezing, for about three days.

It is then loaded into a refrigerator car where a similar temperature is maintained, and is in transit to market on an average of about six days.

Upon arrival at the branch distributing house, it is unloaded into a "cooler", and placed on sale.

Swift & Company requires all beef to be sold during the week of arrival, and the average of sales is within five days.

Any delay along the above journey means deterioration in the meat and loss to the packer.

DISEASE FACTOR MOST IMPORTANT

Greatest of Difficulties Encountered by Sheep Growers in New England States.

MRMS CAUSE MUCH TROUB! E

tion, Feed Well and Provide Sanitary Quarters Suffer Only Small Losses.

Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.)

Of the difficulties encountered in sheep raising in New England it is believed that the disease factor is the most important. Some growers have but little trouble in this respect, especially those who are careful about selection, feed well, provide sanitary quarters and keep their flocks in the prime of condition throughout the season, while others report large losses, at times as high as 50 per cent of their entire flocks.

Stomach worms, grub in the head, nodular disease of the intestines, and indigestion are the troubles most frequently reported in New England and seem to be the ones to which most loss is due. Skin diseases and ticks are also important and give considerable trouble unless regular dipping is prac-

Flocks Degenerating.

Much complaint is heard of flocks running out or degenerating, and many breeders say that they have to sell out and start their flocks anew at intervals of every eight or ten years. It is believed that a great deal of the running out of flocks is due as much to worm trouble, which is not recognized as such in many cases, as to anything else. A change of pasture at intervals of every ten days or two weeks is recommended as a safeguard against worm trouble, though this is not always practicable as New England pastures are located. It is likely that much more could be done in combating this disease by making more extensive use of aftermaths and forage crops in supplementing the regular pastures. As prevention of infection is the most practical means of handling this trouble, it is important that the breeder inform himself of the method outlined in Farmers' Bulletin 840 in order to be better enabled to cope with it.

Changing Pastures.

A few growers, who already have regular pastures so located as to permit shifting, recognize the advantages of changing pasture and make a practice of changing their flocks from one pasture to another, and sometimes to a third, during the same senson, and though in most cases they can give no good reason for their success, they claim to get better results by so doing. Since the length of time on each pasture is much greater than two weeks (the maximum time a pasture can be occupied and insure safety from infection) it is likely that the advantage gained in this respect is due to the bet-ter feed afforded rather than to the prevention of worms, yet the practice is a good one and should be more generally followed.

Most of the so-called running out not due to disease can be attributed to poor care and to degeneration as a result of long-continued inbreeding. Inbreeding to any great extent should be avoided and new blood introduced occasionally in order to maintain vigor and vitality.

The disease factor is one which can hardly be overemphasized. It appears to be one of the most important factors, probably much more so at present than the dog question, in the devel-opment and profitableness of the sheep industry of New England.

Army Makes Record Meat Purchase.

Chicago,-The largest single order for bacon and canned meats in the history of the world-99,560,000 pounds of bacon and 134,000,000 pounds of canned meat-has just been placed by the Quartermaster's Department, U. S. A., for the American Army over-

Louis F. Swift, in commenting on this today, said the order will take the bacon from approximately 1:900,-000 hogs, and if other work were dropped to produce it, would be equivalent to the total bacon production of the five largest Chicago packers for nearly five weeks. However, six months will elapse before delivery is to be completed. Mr. Swift said:

"At the current prices on the day, last week, when the purchase was made, the puckers would pay the live stock producers about $80,000,000 for the necessary hogs and over $50,000,000 for about 900,000 cattle required. The cattle will cost us twice as much, and the hogs two and one-half times as much as in the pre-war period.

The whole order will be made un before the first of the year, despite the fact that, even before this purchase, one-fourth of the packers' facilities have been devoted to filling military ing to last? demands. In order to get out the canned goods the packers will find it necessary to employ night and day the fact that the products are being explanation.
